NOTE FROM THE CHAIR

What a spring semester! No one expected in January that we would soon be at home teaching and learning online. Most of us had not taught online before, and the learning curve was steep. I was delighted that our many full-time and part-time faculty moved their courses online as smoothly as possible, and our students were patient and appreciative of those efforts. The fall semester promises more of the same as we find ways to combine face-to-face and remote learning in all our classes.

The spring semester posed unique challenges for many of our students – financial concerns from lost jobs, health issues for themselves and loved ones, unreliable internet connections, and other factors made for less than ideal learning environments. Recognizing the unique challenges our students have been facing, GW created a GW Cares Student Assistance Fund for students to request help and for donors to contribute. Despite these unforeseen conditions, our students persevered in their efforts to both learn and grow while facing challenges they may have never seen before.

First and foremost, I applaud the class of 2020 on their hard work earning their degrees during these unparalleled times. In this newsletter edition we pause to highlight our nearly 300 graduated seniors of 2020. Please see inside for the names of this year’s graduated seniors and the many winners of departmental, college and university awards.

Due to the pandemic, GW sadly had to forgo its annual in-person commencement. Although we could not celebrate together, the department held a virtual brunch for graduating seniors. Many of our full-time and part-time faculty hosted their own rooms – sort of like a Zoom happy hour, but more personal. This gave students the opportunity to see their professors one final time before they graduated. GW will invite back all 2020 degree earners for the 2021 Commencement on the National Mall – the university’s bicentennial. We hope this year’s graduates are able to be back next year in the same spirit of joy and achievement as deserved in any other year.

Circumstances aside, it has proven to be another successful year for the Political Science Department. Many students come to GW specifically to study political science, and with good reason. QS Top Universities recently ranked our department #13 in the country and #27 worldwide. Several of our faculty won GW and external awards for their research and service (see page 14).

We are also happy to report several of our Ph.D. students have found tenure-track positions with high-ranking universities and prestigious fellowships (see page 12).

We also bid farewell to Professor Henry Farrell who is moving to Johns Hopkins University and Professor Corrine McConnaughy who will be joining Princeton University. They have been great colleagues and will be sorely missed.

On behalf of the department, thank you for being a vital member of our community. We look forward to what is to come in months ahead.

Bruce Dickson
Department Chair
TO OUR GRADUATES

Congratulations class of 2020. I regret not being able to shake your hands as your name gets called and you walk across the stage at the CCAS Celebration. I hope you will return for next year’s.

Having the opportunity to interact with you the last couple of years has been very special for me. I have enjoyed reading your internship papers, talking with you about classes, and hearing about your experiences studying abroad. You keep me young!

Most of you have been very engaged in extracurricular activities at GW, along with volunteer and internship activities in the greater DC community. I hope you will continue to be involved in your communities as you move forward. Stay informed. Learning doesn’t end when you receive your diploma. Continue to broaden your mind. Your Political Science classes as well as other course work completed at GW have given you the tools to evaluate and question messages in the media and the ever-present internet and to develop cogent arguments to present your points of view.

Be involved in politics. Vote! Run for office! Keep moving forward!

Stay in touch with me and other faculty in the department. Let us know what you are doing and come by and visit when you are in DC.

Warmest regards and huge hugs!

My favorite political science class was Politics of the Two Koreas, it was in-depth and extremely relevant to current day events.

Daniel Herrington

I came to GW for the exceptional learning environment, both in and outside the classroom. My experience did not disappoint.

John Miller
Student Stories & Accomplishments
Check out some of our students' amazing stories at GW!

Why GW?

To study international affairs! Mingran Cao

By coming to GW I wanted to fulfill the expectations I had for myself. I have exceeded them.

Marianna Cortes Del Rio

I wanted to major in political science as early as I could remember. This school was in the heart of DC and offered me lots of scholarship aid!

Sabrina Davis

I wanted to go to school in DC and I didn’t want to go to Georgetown.

Francesco Vincent DeSantis

For the international affairs program, and that the program is directly in the city.

Avalon Potter

To have the opportunity to learn, work, and live in Washington, DC!

Jarryd Rauch

To be close to the center of politics and to travel far away from home!

Cameron Todd

With GW pushing all of its students to go out into that realm, I knew the moment I got accepted that I wanted to go.

Martin Yerovi

Undergraduate Awards

University Award
- Undergraduate Studies Award is awarded to Emmah Evangelista and Zaniya Lewis in recognition of innovation and leadership in community service or activism.

Columbian College Award
- Distinguished Scholar is awarded to Zachary Hollander (Philosophy and Political Science).

Department Awards
- Joshua Evans III Memorial Award is awarded to John S. Broderick, Zachary Hollander, Mabel Prine, and Shea A. Savage for outstanding academic achievement in Political Science.
- John A. Morgan Prize is awarded to Kathryn Louise Belkin and Shelley N. Friedland for outstanding academic achievement in Political Science and showing high promise for the study of law.
- Howard C. Sacks Endowed Prize is awarded to Qiuyang (Marx) Wang for outstanding academic achievement in Political Science, with a focus on Far Eastern Affairs.
I transferred here from a university in New York City after I decided I wanted to study politics — a program that GW is famous for! I also figured that if I’m studying politics and government, I might as well study it where everything takes place (in DC)!

Jenna Eidenier

Future plans after graduation: I accepted a full-time offer to work in the Treasury and Trade Solutions part of the Institutional Clients Group sector in Citibank at their Headquarters in New York City.

Jose Roman

What brought you to GW?
Political Career 41%
PSC Major 32%
GW Sports Team 23%
Location in DC 4%

Future plans after graduation: I will be attending the Harvard Graduate School of Education where I will be getting my Masters in Education Policy and Management.

Arion Laws

My favorite class was Power and Violence in America with Professor Adam Dean. I loved it because it is about American labor history, and it exposes the limits of liberal democracy.

Qiuyang (Marx) Wang
FAVORITE CLASS

Comparative Politics of Central and Eastern Europe, because of the way it was taught, Professor Wolchik is a wonderful lecturer.

Emory Sierra Aboulhassani

Money & Influence in Politics around the World with Professor Szakonyi because it was a great topic and the professor showed a lot of expertise and interest in every aspect of the course.

Ryan Dunn

Intro to comparative politics with Professor Kimberly Morgan because of her expertise and zeal for the subject.

Benjamin Falacci

Comparative Politics of the Middle East with Professor Itani. The professor was incredibly intelligent, and he was able to explain really complex topics in a way that was both clear and informative.

Shelly Friedland

African American Politics with Professor Carter and Western European Politics with Feigenbaum. While the subject was interesting, the professors made the class even better.

Hilbah Gui

American Politics with Dr. Danny Hayes. It’s my favorite class because it was the first class I had at GW and he was so passionate about what he taught that it made me excited for what else GW had to offer.

Londyn Harry

Scope and Methods - one of the best classes I took that actually helped me understand my other PSC classes better in helping me to really understand politics in an objective way.

Kevin Holzendorf

Chinese politics with Professor Dickson was nice and the lectures were useful.

Haoqi Li

Dr. Stoker’s Poverty, Welfare, and Work was a great class. He is incredibly knowledgeable and deeply passionate about what he does. He interacts with each student and brings humor, levity, clarity, and humanity to an otherwise dry and overly complex topic.

His lectures are powerful and he cares about the welfare system and the way it impacts people’s lives. He treats every student with respect.

Julia Scott

My favorite class was Constitutional Law with Professor Lupu. The class challenged me while engaging all of my interests.

Claire McGuinness

My favorite political science class was War and the Hobbit with Professor Grynaviski. Getting to apply political science concepts to Lord of the Rings was really fun and challenging.

Sarah Taub

The neatest DC experiences were going to the lying in state/honor ceremonies for President Bush and Rev. Billy Graham.

Hugh Atkinson

Interning with the Office of Barack and Michelle Obama.

Madeline Brown

Running on the National Mall.

Carlie Byrne

Being in The Rocky Horror Picture Show.

Camrin Cohen

The Nationals World Series Parade. Derrick Covington
BEST GW MOMENT

Living in Thurston.
Brandon Becker

The opportunity to attend a lecture by former NASA Administrator Charles Bolden, where he discussed the challenges that face the U.S. space program in the present and future, was a special event that made my time at GW an exciting one.
Jack Chaben

My favorite GW moment was sitting in a tree outside the White House on the night of the 2016 election.
Jenna Horner

GW Gala. So much fun and a real "only at GW" moment to have it at the National Portrait Gallery and French Embassy.
Ian Kavanaugh

My favorite GW moment was being able to see Ruth Bader Ginsburg at Lisner Auditorium.
Arianna Masotti

My favorite GW moment was looking out my dorm room window to see President Macron of France walking down G Street and running out to not only get a picture, but to shake his hand!
Robert Maynard

Seeing Nikki Haley speak!
Bri Mirabile

Seeing Senator Kamala Harris at Whole Foods.
Justin Needel

The Inauguration Ball.
Ben Raffel

Attending a Supreme Court Case! And having to wake up at 5am to do so, "only at GW."
Paula Alcantara Sapena

Meeting French President Macron and Congressman John Lewis after they ate lunch on campus. I even made it in Macron's Instagram post!
Ethan Shuchart

FAVORITE D.C. EXPERIENCE

Having a class at the National Gallery of Art.
Lauren Hajus

Exploring the waterfront and Georgetown for the first time with friends.
Alexander Hupp

Going to watch oral arguments at the Supreme Court was a favorite experience of mine.
John Kacher

Being at the White House the night of the election in 2016. I’ll tell the story for the rest of my life.
Julia Loudenburg

My favorite experience was the cherry blossoms.
Jacqueline Torrez

Hands down, the opportunity to teach people from across the country and around the world about the history and culture in Washington, D.C. as a bike and segway tour guide on the National Mall.
John Miller

Interning on Capitol Hill.
Nathaniel Owens

Yelling at Mike Pence’s motorcade.
Toby Riffle

The Women’s March.
Samantha Stroud

- Michael Joseph, PhD 2018, accepted a tenure-track Assistant Professorship at University of California - San Diego.
- Cory Maks-Solomon, PhD 2020, received the American Political Science Association (APSA) Congressional Fellowship.
GW gave me the opportunity to study abroad in Athens, Greece for a year.

Aahil Shermohammad

I came to GW to be in an amazing political city at a fantastic university!

Jason Morganti

My favorite GW moment was going to see Robert Chernow speak at Lisner Auditorium.

Sean Ruddy

My favorite political science class was Judicial Politics with Professor Wininger - we had to sit-in on a local court proceeding, which brought to life everything we discussed in class!
