For this reason, it is required that applicants for the position have at least three to six months of canvass, or other field experience on an issue advocacy or voter mobilization program. Canvass experience is preferred. The willingness to work extended hours and weekends is also required.

Responsibilities:
- Assist with the implementation of all aspects of the program to include, but not limited to the recruitment, instruction and day-to-day management of canvass teams
- Carry out recruitment activities as the program builds capacity
- Provide canvass teams with the necessary guidance and resources required to master advocacy and mobilization best practices
- Promote the continued development of canvass teams in their day-to-day duties and responsibilities over the course of the program
- Respond with timeliness to all issues and incidents on the ground as well as communicate all relevant issues and incidents to the regional canvass director
- Ensure that canvass teams maintain accurate and reliable data
- Maintain a positive attitude and promote a culture of teamwork and cooperation within the assigned canvass team

Qualifications:
- A can-do attitude and a strong commitment towards achieving social justice and progressive change
- Field experience; a minimum of three to six months
- Strong organizational and communication skills and ability to multi-task and meet deadlines
- Able to perform under tight deadlines while maintaining good judgment
- Proficient in VAN, Microsoft Office Suite and Google Docs
- Willingness to relocate as necessary
- Reliable transportation and valid driver’s license

All positions are salaried, full-time, short-term positions. Background checks will be required before hiring. To apply; please submit a cover letter, resume and references to jobs@terra-strategies.com
Internship Position in Government Affairs Department

I. Overview: This position would provide interns with valuable experience with the operations of a fast paced government affairs office in the midst of the most sweeping health care reforms ever enacted. Interns will gain experience reading legislation/regulations, drafting advocacy documents and summarizing key meetings. Interns also will have exposure to select Capitol Hill hearings, briefings and/or meetings.

II. Required Skills: The successful candidate will be:
• Expert in desktop software: This individual would be proficient in PowerPoint and Word. Knowledge of Excel and Microsoft Publisher would be helpful. The successful candidate would be able to quickly produce vividly engaging presentations and desktop publishing documents.
• Able to draft wide range written documents: This individual must be capable of writing a variety of documents -- including succinct talking points, advocacy letters, summaries of key meetings/hearings, and research papers. Timeframes for document production are very short with little advance notice. Documents must be well researched, persuasive and accurately proofed.
• Capable of editing documents: This position would require a detail oriented individual to edit documents to identify and correct formatting, grammar, punctuation, inconsistent usage and other problems in documents. The individual should be capable of adding and correcting end-notes.
• Capable of basic research: This position would be required to research certain issues on-line, such as locating legislation on Thomas, or key research studies from the Congressional Budget Office or other well known research organizations.
• Adept at electronic filing and distribution: This position will help assure that documents are disseminated properly. In addition, this individual would help maintain an on-line library and tracking system to assure that personnel have timely and easy access to critical issue documents.

III. Required Characteristics: The successful individual will be:
• An Excellent Writer and Editor: This individual will have strong grammar and proofing skills. In addition, this individual would be capable of writing clearly and succinctly.
• Proactive: The successful candidate will be a self starter that identifies, prioritizes, and expeditiously completes critical tasks and projects to achieve needed objectives.
• Accurate and detail oriented: This position requires an individual committed to assuring the quality and accuracy of written documents, facts and other data used externally.
• Organized and enjoy multiple tasking: This individual must be capable of juggling multiple projects and shifting timeframes. The successful candidate will adapt to changing priorities but still bring projects to a timely completion.
• Flexible with strong work ethic: Legislative opportunities are time-sensitive and ever changing. Therefore, the successful candidate would be focused on working efficiently and effectively to accomplish projects in an expeditious manner.

IV. Preferred Education and Experience
The preferred candidate would be enrolled in a full time college program.

Please send resume and cover letter to murraya3@aetna.com.

FALL INTERNS -
Senator Tom Carper is accepting internship applications for Fall 2015. This internship presents an opportunity for both a unique learning experience and an inside look at the legislative process. Candidates should possess strong writing and research skills, and a demonstrated interest in American politics. Interns perform research on a wide variety of legislative issues, compose memos and attend hearings and events throughout the Capitol. Preference is given to applicants from Delaware. The final deadline to apply to the Washington, D.C. office is September 7th. To apply, please submit a completed application form (available on our website, carper.senate.gov), cover letter and resume to interncoordinator@carper.senate.gov.
The White House Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) interns are given a wide range of assignments including conducting research, managing incoming inquiries, attending meetings, and writing memos on a variety of environmental issues. Interns have the opportunity to be involved in groundbreaking projects, working closely with staff from all levels and a variety of backgrounds. The pace in the office is fast, so accuracy and attention to detail are absolute requirements. Interns can expect to begin with the basics and gradually add more specialized projects as they gain experience.

Other essential intern duties include answering phones, routing mail, copying documents, filing and retrieving information (conventionally or electronically), assembling briefing materials and performing assigned research tasks.

Qualifications Needed: We are seeking students who are:

- Highly motivated
- Willing to contribute where needed
- Have the ability to handle the inherent pressure that comes with working within the Executive Office of the President.

Additionally, candidates should have:

- Excellent communications skills
- Computer literacy
- Relevant classroom or practical experience

We strongly prefer candidates who are available to work full-time, but will consider applicants who cannot. CEQ will work with interns who are attempting to arrange credit with a college or university to help fulfill academic requirements. All internship positions are unpaid.

Most interns work a typical semester-based schedule (May – August, September – December, January – April); however a position may be customized based on applicant availability and project needs.

Deadlines for applications are February 15 (Summer), June 1 (Fall), and October 1 (Spring).

Second-term Congressman, Hakeem Jeffries (NY-8), seeks bright, motivated, and politically interested undergraduate students to work with fundraising and political operation. Applicants must be detail oriented, highly organized and goal-oriented, with strong written and verbal skills. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to: donor research, political research, database management, event planning/staffing/support, direct mail administration, candidate call time preparation assistance, and social media communications. This is a great opportunity to gain experience in politics while working in a fast-paced and flexible work environment.

The internship start dates are flexible but reflect the academic calendar for the fall semester (September-December). Interns will be expected to commit 10-15 hours per week, on average, to campaign work. The position is unpaid.

Please submit resume and cover letter (very brief-150 words or less) to FinanceInternNY08@gmail.com.
We have a new job open for a Policy Analyst in higher education at New America Foundation. You can find the job description and other information here: http://newamerica.applytojob.com/apply/CjQe22

Advanced Network Strategies is a boutique Democratic campaign fundraising firm, located on Capitol Hill, specializing in contributions from interest groups. The firm’s twelve clients cover a wide range of knowledge, expertise, and geography. Its client roster currently boasts 11 Members of Congress including Mike Thompson (CA), Bennie Thompson (MS), Collin Peterson (MN), John Larson (CT), Emanuel Cleaver (MO), Hank Johnson (GA), Jim Cooper (TN), Luis Gutierrez (IL), Robin Kelly (IL), Michelle Lujan Grisham (NM), and Marcia Fudge (OH), as well as McKesson Corporation. While specializing in fundraising here in Washington, DC, ANS also handles its clients’ events across the country.

Job Description
An internship at Advanced Network Strategies provides hands on and in-depth exposure to the political process in Washington, DC for students interested in a career in politics. Interns will interact with Members of Congress, lobbyists, and Congressional staff on a regular basis. While the job does include some data entry, the vast majority of our interns’ responsibilities involve direct interaction with our clients and potential contributors. Interns will be responsible for planning and executing fundraisers, conducting research on potential donors, staffing Members of Congress, as well as soliciting contributions from interest groups and individuals. Additionally, the firm consists of only two full-time employees, making our interns a valuable and necessary part of the office. This is an unpaid internship.

Job Qualifications
The ideal candidate would be well-versed in current events (e.g. read a newspaper daily), have excellent phone presence, be able to multi-task in a fast-paced environment, be responsive and decisive. Because our interns spend so much of their time interacting with Members and their staffs, candidates must be mature, professional, and a quick-study.

To apply, please send a copy of your resume to Kevin Cameron (anstrategies.assoc2@gmail.com).
