“Education is not preparation for life; education is life itself. ~John Dewey
New Opportunity!

2013 Global Human Rights City Essay Contest

“How to Promote a Human Rights City in Your Country”
Gwangju, South Korea / May 15, 2013

All students and youths under the age of 30 are cordially invited to participate in the 2013 Global Human Rights Essay Contest on 'Human Rights City'. Participants must register by before 1 February 2013. Essay submission deadline is 1 March 2013. Essays may be written either in Korean or English. Please refer to the guidelines and requirements attached.

Contact Ms. Soo SUH at the Korea Human Rights Foundation with questions:
Tel: +82-2-363-0002 Email: khrf99@gmail.com
Website: www.humanrights.or.kr

Hosted by:
Jointly Organized by:

In Cooperation with:

Please register for the essay contest at www.humanrights.or.kr
Would you like to submit to FOUNDATIONS?

Foundations is now accepting submissions. All papers must meet the following criteria:

- Must have been written while pursuing an undergraduate degree. Papers written as an undergraduate may be submitted until two years past the month of graduation.
- International submissions are accepted but all submissions must be written in English.
- Must have a historical theme (includes anthropology, art history, classics, economics, political science, etc.)
- Must be unpublished.
- Must employ primary sources.
- Must be typed in 12-point Times New Roman font,
- double-spaced, and titled.
- Must be between 15 and 70 pages, not including endnotes.

Please submit all papers as e-mail attachments along with an abstract no longer than 100 words in Microsoft Word document format to foundations@jhu.edu. All papers are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the academic year and the summer. Authors are kindly requested to provide the following data in the body of the e-mail, not in the manuscript: name, school attended, graduation year, and e-mail address.

Foundations is an international academic undergraduate history journal published biannually.

Visit http://www.jhu.edu/foundations for more information.
YOUR WORLD LEADER CAREER STARTS AT MODEL NATO YOUTH SUMMIT 2013!

Model NATO Youth Summit (MoNYS) is the largest international simulation of NATO’s decision-making process in the world and the only one in Europe. Its second edition will be held in Brussels, between 8th and 13th of July 2013, and will gather more than 200 students from across the globe, for a week of diplomatic experience at the highest level.

If you have always envisioned yourself as a future world leader, this is the right opportunity for you! The application process for MoNYS 2013 is now open. Model NATO Youth Summit will give you the chance to discover first-hand what it means to be a senior diplomat and work for an important institution such as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

We are looking for students aged between 18 and 28, with experience and demonstrated interest in such simulations, having a deep understanding of how the international political scene functions and how world changing decisions are taken.

You can apply as an individual delegate or as a member of a delegation, formed out of 5 people (5 delegates and one ambassador), all enrolled in the same university. The applications for delegations are open to students coming from Central and Eastern Europe, Baltic Countries, Balkans, Caucasus, Northern Europe, Western Europe, Russian Federation and North America. For individual delegates there are no nationality restrictions, but priority will be given to applicants from non-NATO member states. Please note that individual applications shall be first considered from Africa, Oceania, Asia and Latin America, therefore, we encourage students from Europe and North America to apply as a delegation.

During the Summit, all delegates will fulfill the role of senior NATO diplomats and discuss topics of major importance that appear on NATO’s current agenda, simulating the activities of six councils and committees: North Atlantic Council (NAC), Defence Policy and Planning Committee (DPCC), Civil Emergency Planning Committee (CEPC), Operation Policy Committee (OPC), Euro-Atlantic Partnership Council (EAPC) and NATO-Russia Council (NRC).

For further information, complete eligibility criteria and application forms, please refer to www.natoyouthsummit.org. The final deadline for receiving the applications is January 31st, 2013.

Contact:
Byron Taylor-Comboy
Liaison Officer for North America
E: byron.taylor@natoyouthsummit.org
W: www.natoyouthsummit.org

www.natoyouthsummit.org
Club Prince Albert, Rue des Petits Carmes 20, 1000 Brussels
 Volunteer Opportunities

New Opportunity!

Sierra Club’s Forward on Climate Rally Internship Program
Intern – Forward on Climate Rally, Washington, DC
Department: Conservation/ Beyond Oil Campaign

Term: We are looking for interns to start immediately and work through February 17
Hours: 15-20 hours per week preferred.
Climate change is one of the most significant problems facing our planet today. Oil, coal, and natural gas are major sources of greenhouse gas emissions, which together have contributed to rising global average temperatures, more frequent and severe storms, and rising sea levels. The United States is the largest per-capita source of greenhouse gas emissions, yet it lacks a strong, binding plan to reduce these emissions.
The Keystone XL pipeline project, proposed to carry tar sands from Alberta, Canada to refineries in the Gulf of Mexico, poses an immediate threat to communities living along its path and to the environment. The project has the potential to pollute groundwater across the Midwest and emit enough carbon into the atmosphere that NASA scientist James Hanson has said the project would mean "game over" for the climate.
In preparation for a Keystone XL decision and in the context of a rapidly changing climate, the Sierra Club and 350.org will co-sponsor the Forward on Climate Rally to demand that President Obama blocks the Keystone XL project and creates a strong climate policy. The rally will take place in Washington, DC, during Presidents Day weekend (Sunday, February 17). It will be the largest climate rally in the history of the United States, with an expected attendance of over 20,000. It comes at a pivotal point in our nation’s history: With President Obama about to begin his second term, it is critical that he hears from his constituents about the importance of championing strong climate policy.
Job Activities/Scope: Interns will provide support to all aspects of the Forward on Climate Rally, including student and community-member recruitment, leadership development, and grassroots visibility tactics. Interns will have the opportunity to work in the Sierra Club DC office and on their own college campuses.

Required Knowledge and Skills:
· Excellent written and oral communication skills
· Ability to work well independently or in a team setting
· Ability to converse comfortably on the phone
· Strong attention to detail
· Experience with grassroots organizing and campaigns is a plus
· Good time management and organizational skills
· Enthusiasm about ending America’s addiction to dirty energy!

Compensation/Pay: All Sierra Club internships are unpaid. Participants may be able to gain college credit for their internship.

To apply, please fill out this form with your contact information, and we will be in touch shortly. You can also email HeatherM@GreenCorps.org or call Heather MacKenzie at 978.729.2149 with any questions.
Internships

New Posting!

Internship with The Home Depot Government Relations Office

The Home Depot Government Relations office is looking to hire a Government Relations Intern for our Spring 2013 internship, which runs from mid-January to mid-May, with flexible start and end dates.

Qualified candidates must have an interest in and knowledge of not only the political process, but also political fundraising and grassroots. We are looking for candidates with an outgoing and friendly personality, excellent organizational skills, a proven attention to detail, strong writing and communications skills, outstanding time management skills, and a familiarity with Excel, especially mail merging.

The Government Relations Intern duties will include, but are not limited to:
--Assisting with The Home Depot’s Political Action Committee (PAC)
--Completing a four-month long research project on a pressing government relations/grassroots/programmatic topic and presenting it to the Government Relations team in May.
--Participating in bi-weekly briefings at campaign committees and trade associations relevant to The Home Depot's legislative priorities, as well as attending hearings on Capitol Hill.
--Assisting with daily office tasks, including sending mailings and UPS packages, office supply stocking, meeting assistance and other administrative support.

This is a paid internship; $15/hour for full time to near full time hours (depending on class schedule). Interested candidates should send a cover letter, resume and political memo, legislative briefing, or similar short writing sample to Caroline Quat at caroline_quat@homedepot.com.
New Posting!

Internship with ThinkProgress

ThinkProgress, a progressive political blog in Washington, DC, has immediate openings for spring interns. Our interns (undergraduate, graduate, or recent graduates) help out with extensive research, writing, editing, fact-checking, and monitoring of news stories. Interns also have opportunities to blog on ThinkProgress. The paid internship is located in DC. The application for internships with ThinkProgress can be found here: http://www.americanprogress.org/about/internships/.

Please email Amanda Beadle (abeadle@americanprogress.org) or Pat Garofalo (pgarofalo@americanprogress.org) if you have any questions.

---

New Posting!

Upcoming Info Session on Internships with the White House Office of Presidential Correspondence

White House Office of Presidential Correspondence Information Session
Wednesday, January 23, 2013
12-1pm
GW Career Center, Marvin Center Room 538

The White House Office of Presidential Correspondence handles faxes, letters, and emails from people all around the country who want to correspond with the President, as well as phone calls made to the White House Comment Line. This session will provide students with information on our Internship Program. Please note this internship is separate from the centralized White House Internship Program.

Students can RSVP through GWork.
The White House
Office of Presidential Correspondence
Associate Program

The Office of Presidential Correspondence (OPC) is currently accepting applications for the summer 2013 Associate Program. OPC Associates gain professional experience, while also getting unique insight into the Executive Office of the President.

Every day, OPC responds to the thousands of letters, e-mails, and phone calls President Obama receives. Associates are assigned to one of the departments in OPC and work alongside staff to help President Obama maintain a dialogue with the American people.

Some departments within OPC where Associates could be assigned include:

- Mail Analysis - handling correspondence on various policy issues.
- Agency Liaison- which works with constituents and federal agencies to facilitate a resolution to casework.
- The Comment Line - providing the President with rapid-fire feedback from Americans.
- The Gift Office - which documents and catalogues gifts sent to the First Family.

OPC Associates serve a minimum of 30 hours per week in the Office of Presidential Correspondence. The summer 2013 program is scheduled to last from May 28, 2013 to August 9, 2013. Applications are due February 8, 2013.

Interested in applying?

Applicants should be:
- U.S. citizens
- At least 18 years of age
- Committed to public service
- Currently enrolled in or within 2 years of a degree seeking program

Please email your resume and a statement of interest to OPCAssociate@who.eop.gov by February 8th.
Interested in a Campaign Internship?

Pete 13 is seeking unpaid campaign interns on a rolling basis. Interns are expected to commit a minimum of 10-15 hours a week to the campaign.

PETE 13 is looking for people who are:

- Eager to learn about the inner workings of a political campaign.
- People-oriented and great team members.
- Willing to help out wherever help is needed.
- Rooted in a strong work ethic and full of initiative.
- Intelligent and creative individuals.
- Interested in public service, writing, public relations, media relations, and politics.

Campaign internships will help students and graduates gain knowledge in all field of a modern campaign including: Office Management, Research, Big ideas, Voter Contact, Grassroots Outreach, BBQ, Communications, Events and Field Work.

Eligible students will be able to receive academic credit and upon completion of the internship, a letter or recommendation.

To apply, please send a resume, cover letter and this form, completed to Danny@PeteSnyder.com.
The Congressional Award Foundation Spring Internships Available

The Congressional Award is accepting internship applications for the Spring 2013 Semester in the National Office in Washington, DC.

Interns assist Congressional Award Program Managers with the promoting, publicizing, and overseeing of the foundation and its day-to-day operations. This includes program-related activities, medal ceremonies, and national events. The Program Managers are the foundation's liaisons with congressional offices, partnering organizations, schools, advisors, individual participants, education officials, and state and local media. Interns are also expected to lead a project within the office for the program. The individual assignments for interns will include the following:

- Updating and compiling social media materials
- Planning and assisting with multiple fundraisers and national events
- Planning and assisting with preparation for the 2013 Gold Medal Ceremony
- Designing a new public service announcement for the program on various mediums
- Networking with the Congressional Award Alumni Association
- Organizing meetings for local outreach with congressional offices, youth organizations, schools, etc.
- Compiling mailing lists, planning and staffing events, and assisting in other development projects

This is an unpaid position that offers a small stipend and a Metro commuting allowance.

The Congressional Award Foundation
379 Ford House Office Building
Washington, District of Columbia 20515
NASI’s 2013 Summer Internships, $3,500 Stipend

NASI is recruiting for our summer internship programs. As a NASI member, we rely on your help to find excellent student talent. With your assistance, the most qualified upper division undergraduate and graduate students, as well as recent graduates looking to explore their next career choices, will have access to an unmatched internship experience.

Please share this information widely.

NASI's internship programs -- The Washington Internship on Social Insurance, The Somers Aging and Long-Term Care Internship, The Nathan J. Stark Internship for Non-Profit Development, and The Eileen Sweeney Graduate Internship in Disability Policy -- offer a wide array of opportunities and a $3,500 stipend. Descriptions of the programs and the online application form are available on the individual internship pages and on NASI’s Internship Opportunities page.

For 24 years, NASI’s internship program has focused on developing young leaders in the social insurance field. Last year, twenty-one outstanding young scholars were selected to spend their summer in Washington, DC working at various agencies and organizations under the supervision of NASI members like you. The 2012 class of interns came from colleges and universities across the nation and included both undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral students in various fields of study, including Political Science, Economics, Social Work, Aging Studies, Journalism, Education, Social Policy, Psychology, Biology, History, Demography, Public Health, Health Sector Management, Health Policy and Administration, Human Development, Public Policy, Gerontology, International Affairs, Health Policy, and Sociology. NASI is looking for 15-20 outstanding summer interns for 2013. Think about the talented young people you know—students, mentees, interns, and relatives—and encourage them to apply for an exciting summer in Washington, DC.

Visit NASI’s Internship Opportunities page for additional information on our internship programs and how to apply.

Application Deadline: March 1, 2013

If you have any questions, feel free to call NASI at 202-452-8097 or email us at internships@nasi.org.
Apply by January 31 for Paid Policy Internships

Secure paid state-based and federal policy internships this summer by submitting applications to the IHS policy internship program by the January 31 deadline.

What’s in store for the summer?

- Eight weeks of work experience with a think tank or policy organization (students have the option to request state-based placements where particular issues come into focus and the work can make more local impact)
- Intensive learning during two Washington, DC seminars
- A network of people dedicated to the cause of liberty
- Stipend, travel allowance, and housing assistance

How does KSFP translate into a career in policy? Upon graduation, interns frequently stay on or return to their host organizations in fulltime roles.

Please take a moment to forward this email to students and recent graduates, or invite them to explore the opportunity here: http://www.theihs.org/koch-summer-fellow-program

Application deadline: January 31

Keri Anderson
Student Coordinator
Institute for Humane Studies
www.TheIHS.org
You’re Invited

Want to learn more about internship and entry-level opportunities in communications? Brunswick Group will be hosting a Winter Open House and Information Session at our Washington, D.C. office:

Tuesday, January 15th, 2013
2:00 pm
1099 New York Ave NW, 3rd Floor

AGENDA:
2:00 pm: What is Brunswick Group?
2:30 pm: Case Study
3:00 pm: Q&A

Please RSVP to jbanks@brunswickgroup.com by January 11th

Light refreshments will be served
Business casual attire

BRUNSWICK